Green landscaping with trees and plants

Institute has implemented green-friendly practices to manage the available resources and has taken steps in environmental conservation and protection. Creating an environment for progressive learning and development campus is covered by herbs, shrubs, and trees. Various pollution awareness programs in and around the institute and help in maintaining a green campus. It encourages institute students to care about the treatment of trees and shrubs as well as environmental issues within their campus community. Different plantation programs are happening in the institute to create environment consciousness amongst students.

Pedestrian friendly roads:

The institute has Pedestrian-friendly roads to make the walk to campus safer for students. The Campus Planning Department aims to achieve this by reducing the amount students and faculty drive and creating an environment in which pedestrians feel comfortable walking from institute gate to institute building to the next. The pedestrian road would create a more social atmosphere for students and help the entire campus to function better as a pedestrian oriented campus.
